

Elaine MacFadyen

With over a decade of experience in the communications field, Elaine joins the Mount's Nova Scotia Centre on Aging team with a focus to increase the Centre's identity and profile. Elaine has worked in the Public Sector for several years and more specifically within the community economic development and economic development realms. Her educational background lies in Communications and Public Sector Management.

As Communications Coordinator she is responsible for developing and implementing a communications strategy and manages the Centre's marketing efforts and collateral, website content, communications activities and the evaluation of communicative efforts.