

Art Prompts Writing: A Writing Contest for Students

The Art Gallery is offering a special prize this year for writing that engages with the exhibitions mounted in October and November: Lisette Model: a Performance in Photography and Rubbish, Rubbish. Go to <http://msvuart.ca/> for more information.

Whether or not you are a regular gallery-goer, we invite you to visit the gallery on the ground floor of Seton Centre. Walk around, look hard, squint, peer, sketch, doodle, and jot down some words. Then write us something: any genre, any approach, not too long. (maximum 1000 words). Tell a story, write a critical response, describe the experience, craft a poem to talk back to the visual art...

Send your piece as a WORD, pdf, or rtf attachment to artpromptswriting@gmail.com

Deadline: Noon Thursday November 10, 2011

Pseudonym:

To allow the judges to read "blind," please put a pseudonym on the attachment, and be sure to tell us in the covering email what your pseudonym is. Submissions which are not anonymous will not be entered in competition.

Contact information:

In your cover email, be sure to include the following information:

- your full name
- the title of your submission
- the pseudonym used
- your program of study
- an email or telephone number where you can reliably be reached at relatively short notice.

The winner will be notified by November 17, 2011, and will be invited to lunch on Friday November 18, 2011 in the Multi-Purpose Room to receive the prize.
