

Newfoundland and Labrador:

For over 100 years, the people of Newfoundland and Labrador have been establishing co-operatives to meet their economic and social needs.

- There are over 90 community based co-operatives operating in the province.
- The Newfoundland-Labrador Federation of Co-operatives represents over 40 local co-ops based in communities across the province. These include retail, fishery, farming, childcare, and health care co-ops.
- The Newfoundland Independent Filmmakers Co-op was established in 1975 and today it continues to lead the development of the video and film production industry in the province.*
