Welcome to MSU Child & Youth Study

This booklet provides details about course selection, practicum, and the honours program.

MSU is the only university in Eastern Canada to offer a Bachelor of Arts degree in Child and Youth Study. Students receive an excellent foundation for working with children and youth, and are prepared for a variety of careers in early childhood care and education, youth care, family and community based programs. The program offers students the opportunity to blend theory with practice, to learn through direct experience, to make contacts within the child and youth community, and to make career choices.

Graduates of the program find careers in early childhood care centres, parent-child settings, schools, developmental intervention programs, street youth programs, community based treatment centres, residential care settings, and recreational settings. Our graduates also find careers in specialized programs such as addiction services, child welfare community services, and government departments dealing with early childhood development, child care policies and facilities licensing. Graduates of the Child and Youth Study program may be front line workers, team leaders or supervisors/ administrators.

The undergraduate program also provides a foundation for those wishing to undertake further degrees in Child and Youth Study, Speech and Language Pathology, Occupational Therapy, and Education.

The degree can be completed through on-line learning. All CHYS on-line courses are "live" classes provided through Moodle/Collaborate. Some required courses provided by other programs are in Downloadable Video format. Please see the section "Information for Distance Students" in this handbook for further details.

The Department of Child and Youth Study has faculty with a wide range of expertise with children, youth, families, and programs. Small class sizes help ensure that students become familiar with their Department instructors. Students have identified the collegiality of the faculty as a strength of the program and of their experiences in it.

The program has an intake of approximately 100-120 students each year. Students arrive with a range of experiences with children and youth, and from diverse family and regional backgrounds. This diversity is recognized and valued by the faculty for the opportunities it provides to learn from students, and for students to expand their understandings of each other. Many enter the program with advanced standing as transfer students.

Students complete four supervised practicum placements that focus on young children, youth, leadership, and diverse needs intervention. Guidelines about practicum placement selection can be found later in this booklet.

Those who are interested in independent research, and those considering graduate study have the opportunity to undertake the Honours Thesis course and to graduate with an Honours Degree.

The Child and Youth Study Society provides opportunities for students to participate in a variety of activities that support children and families, while developing leadership skills and volunteer experiences. The executive is voted in by Child and Youth Study students.

DEPARTMENT EMPLOYMENT POSSIBILITIES

Curriculum Resource Centre (CRC) and Children's Book Collection (MSVU Library)

Each year, upper level Child and Youth Study students are hired for the fall and winter terms to work as assistant librarian with the CRC, and as cataloguing assistant for the Children's Book Collection. Students are nominated by the Department based on their demonstrated academic strengths, abilities to work with others, take direction, and positively represent the Department. See more about the CRC below.

Research and Administrative Assistants

On occasion the Department and individual faculty will have funds available to hire student assistants to work on projects of various length. Students are hired based on their demonstrated abilities and aptitudes that match with the work required. These opportunities provide students with varied experiences that build skills important for future employment.

CHILD STUDY CENTRE

The Mount Child Study Centre serves as a model learning facility for students in the CYS degree program. It operates as a non-profit community-based program, with an advisory Board of Directors, which includes members from the Department of Child and Youth Study, the University's Board of Governors, parents, and Child Study Centre staff.

The Centre provides practicum opportunities for students enrolled in the Child and Youth Study undergraduate program. Students have the option to complete placements in the early childhood program, working with children who have diverse developmental needs, and in an administrative capacity. Those who successfully complete their placements at the Centre are often asked to join the Centre's substitute educator list, providing them with additional opportunities to gain experience.

The Director and teachers of the Centre are regular providers of guest lectures in CYS classes, and on occasion are employed as part-time instructors in the CYS program. The CYS Department considers this to be an invaluable relationship, one that enriches the learning opportunities for students and faculty alike.

The Centre provides opportunities for student/class observation and other assignments, as well as faculty and student research. The Centre's welcoming of students for these purposes makes it possible for students to integrate theory with practice and provides for a unique learning experiences.

CURRICULUM RESOURCE CENTRE (CRC)

Located in the Seton Academic Centre (SAC), room 408 is a specialized resource library that loans out education materials for use in programs for children and youth, in English and French. Here you'll find resource books, DVDs, software, manipulatives, kits and the like. You can also borrow iPads that are loaded with educational apps. There is always something new at the CRC – check it out!

CHILD AND YOUTH STUDY PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The goal of the Child and Youth Study undergraduate program is to provide a comprehensive preparation for pursuing careers in child and youth fields. Its objectives are as follow:

- To provide students with specialized professional courses, complemented by a core set of arts and science courses, to ensure they meet licensing and credentialing requirements across North America and can pursue careers and graduate education in related fields (e.g. social work, elementary school teacher, occupational therapy, speech language pathology) if they so choose.
- To provide students with practical field experiences to enhance their professional and personal growth and development.
- To graduate students who are life-long learners and leaders in the child and youth fields including undertaking further university study.

COURSE SELECTION

To graduate with a BA (Child & Youth Study) degree, students must successfully complete 22 units (20 units of academic credit plus 2.0 units of practicum) as set out in the university calendar. The following tables provide a guide for course selection assuming four years of full time study in the fall and winter terms. Transfer students, part-time students, Distance students, and those who undertake study during summer sessions might follow a different sequence.

In selecting courses, students should work through the Advising Checklist included at the end of this handbook, and also available on-line at:

<http://www.msvu.ca/en/home/programsdepartments/professionalstudies/childandyouthstudy/default.aspx>.

Many courses have prerequisites which determine the order in which they must be taken. Students will need to consult the on-line timetable through myMount or webadvisor to identify course availability and days/times offered. Courses are not necessarily available each year.

ALL STUDENTS should consult with their Department advisors to select classes and at any other time when they have questions about their program of study. Find your advisor here:

<http://www.msvu.ca/en/home/programsdepartments/professionalstudies/childandyouthstudy/faculty/default.aspx>

COURSE LOADS & Full-Time /vs/ Part-time Students

- Course Loads:

The maximum course load for the Fall Term, Winter Term or combined Summer Sessions is 2.5 units. Practicum courses are not considered part of the course load. Therefore students may take 3.0 units per term if this includes a .5 unit of practicum. Students with a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or greater may apply to exceed this maximum course limit. Normally, only an additional 0.5 unit will be permitted.

- F/W Full-time Students:

Full-time students are enrolled in 3.0 or more units during the September to April academic year. Students who are registered with Accessibility Services and who take 2.0 units in total over the fall and winter terms are considered full time.

- Summer Full time Students:

Full-time students are enrolled in 1.5 or more units over BOTH Summer Session I and Summer Session II. The student can choose 1.0 unit in SSI and 0.5 unit in SSII (or vice versa) – but registration MUST occur in BOTH sessions. Students registered with Accessibility Services are encouraged to speak with Accessibility Services regarding the number of units needed for full time status over the summer sessions.

- Part-time Students:

Part-time students are enrolled in 2.5 or fewer units during the September to April academic year.

Confirmation of Enrolment

- Confirmation of enrolment letters can be obtained through the Registrar's Office. Use the Letter Request form found at the link below:

<http://www.msvu.ca/en/home/student services/registrarsoffice/forms/default.aspx>

INFORMATION FOR DISTANCE STUDENTS

All CYS students can take courses via On-Line Learning. However, the designation of being a Distance Student is limited to those on are taking the entire program through On-Line learning.

Although the CYS program can be completed on-line it is not always possible for this to be achieved as a full time student, as not all courses are offered on-line each year. There are some courses that have not been developed for on-line delivery. In those cases a course will be substituted. This can only be done with approval of the Chair of the Child and Youth Study Department. Please contact your faculty advisor when you are having difficulty finding required on-line courses.

Course Sections

Many courses have multiple sections (meaning the same course is offered on different days or times) and this is indicated by the *number that follows by the course number.

- For example, CHYS1110*01 refers to CHYS1110 section one; CHYS1110*02 refers to section 2. Section one might be on Mon & Wed at 9am; section 2 might be on Tues, 4:30pm.
- Math lab sections are designated by alphabetical letter. For example, MATH208L*LA, MATH208L*LB), etc.
- On-line courses have section numbers 16 or higher. DOUBLE CHECK when you are selecting your courses to ensure you know whether it is on-campus or on-line.

Make sure you make note of the section you wish to enroll in on your draft timetable, as you will need it when you register.

PRACTICUM INFORMATION

Please Note: Students on academic probation or whose GPA in the previous semester was 2.0 or less will not be permitted to take practicum. Students who fail to complete any practicum successfully will not be permitted to continue in the program.

FALL AND WINTER TERMS

During the fall and winter terms students undertaking practica attend their placements on Tuesdays and Thursdays (all day). No other daytime (until 4:30 pm) courses can be undertaken on those days, but evening courses are allowed unless it interferes with practica responsibilities and expectations.

SUMMER SESSIONS

Students may also complete practica during Summer Sessions. Each lasts for four weeks (Monday to Friday, all day).

No student is guaranteed a summer session practicum placement as the availability of sites is limited.

In order to undertake practicum students MUST:

- register by the posted deadline of each term
- attend the mandatory practicum information meeting.
- ensure you have obtained the appropriate paperwork for practicum: vulnerable sector check (includes criminal record check); child abuse registry check, as well as Emergency First aid & CPR "C"/AED. Full details can be found at www.msvu.ca/practicumdocs.

Some types of practica require having completed, or be taking particular CHYS courses. See the Practicum course descriptions for details.

Challenge for Practicum Credit

Students who have requisite experience and required number of early childhood care practicum hours can undertake a practica challenge for credit (one only based on work experience; one only based on education; one only based on professional leadership). All students MUST complete at least one CHYS practicum under the Department's supervision before they can complete a challenge for practicum credit. Other requirements/limitations are set out in the Challenge for Credit Policy documents.

It is mandatory that all students registered in practicum for both or either academic terms attend these meetings as placements will be assigned at those times. Please check your email for exact dates & times.

MANDATORY PRACTICUM INFORMATION MEETINGS for SUMMER SESSIONS are held in April. It is necessary that all students registered in practicum for Summer Sessions attend this meeting.

Please monitor your EMAIL closely when enrolled in Practicum.

If you have any questions or concerns please contact the Practicum Coordinator at CHYSPracticum@msvu.ca

DISTANCE PRACTICUM POLICY

ONLY those students who are living 100 km or further from the Mount Campus and who have been taking ALL COURSES via on-line delivery during the previous regular academic term (fall/winter) are permitted to request practicum placements outside the Halifax Regional Municipality. Students who have taken winter courses on-campus must complete their summer practica within the HRM area.

Distance students are required to contact the Practicum Coordinator (CHYSPracticum@msvu.ca) 6 to 8 weeks prior to the start of the semester to begin the planning process. At that time you will need to provide the names and contact information of 2-3 potential placement sites whose programs accord with the level and type of practicum you are undertaking (see CHYS2251, 3351, 3352, and 4451 for descriptions).

The practicum coordinator will contact the sites in order to determine their willingness and availability to host you as a practicum student, and the appropriateness of the program/facility as a professional practicum site.

The CYS Department is not under an obligation or responsible for locating Distance practicum sites for students or ensuring arrangements have been by the posted practicum start dates.

If you have questions about suitability, or other matters pertaining to Distance practicum contact the coordinator (CHYSPracticum@msvu.ca) in a timely manner.
