

Bachelor of Arts in Cultural Studies?

Know What's Expected

Cultural studies explores the effects of social differences and the way we respond to them. If you major in Cultural Studies, employers will expect that you have studied the cultural evolution of civilization and the influence of political movements on popular culture. French may also be an asset in some positions.

Transferable Skills

- Analysis and interpretation of information and the ability to critically evaluate it
- Written and spoken communication skills
- Computer Literacy
- Ability to work as a team
- Problem-solving skills
- Time management skills

What Employers Want to See

Contributions you make to your community reflect well on you as an individual. Employers are looking for students who are dedicated, hard working, and show a commitment to their interests. By getting involved on-campus (for societies visit mountstudents.ca) or off-campus early in your degree, you will not only show credibility in your area of interest but also a willingness to work towards goals.

You can also build your Mount Co-Curricular Record (CCR) with these activities at msvu.ca/CCRP and present this official document to future employers.

Necessary Skills

- Leadership
- Researching and writing skills
- Organizing
- Project Management

Where Can You Work?

A Cultural studies Major offers a broad background in the arts, history, humanities, sciences, and social sciences. Graduates from Cultural Studies programs may find careers in journalism, communications, the arts, critical writing, museum work, teaching, religion, and law.

A cultural studies degree is also a great stepping stone for further education. Visit the Bachelor of Arts—Cultural Studies webpage for more information.

Possible Job Titles

- Lawyer
