

Science on Tap
Quench your interest

Our Future is Aging:

Rethinking Ways to Deliver Care in an Aging Society

Tuesday, April 23, 2013, 6:30 – 8:30pm

Redwood Grill, 30 Fairfax Drive, Halifax (located in Future Inns, Bayers Lake)

Please RSVP: nsca@msvu.ca or 457-6546

Like us on Facebook

facebook

Join us for refreshments and discussion
about the latest health research evidence.
This free event is presented by the Canadian Institutes of Health Research and the Nova Scotia Centre on Aging Space is limited.

Our aging population presents challenges and opportunities for the supply and demand of health professionals. Will we have enough healthcare workers to meet the needs? How can health professionals work more collaboratively? What should be done differently and how do we make the necessary changes? Join us for refreshments and informal discussion about the real issues of supporting an aging society.

Experts:

Dr. Janice Keefe

PhD is a Professor,
Department of Family
Studies & Gerontology
and the Lena Isabel Jodrey Chair in Gerontology, Mount Saint
Vincent University.

Dr. Ruth Martin-Misener

RN-NP, PhD is an Associate Professor, School of Nursing at Dalhousie University and Co-Director of the Canadian Centre for Advanced Practice
Nursing Research at McMaster University.

Dr. Gail Tomblin Murphy

RN, PhD is a Professor, School of Nursing and Department of Community Health and Epidemiology at Dalhousie University. She is also the Director of Dalhousie's WHO/PAHO
Collaborating Centre on Health Workforce Planning and Research, and a Co-investigator at the Faculty of Nursing, University of Toronto.

Moderator: Mary Lee
Health Association of Nova Scotia