

Decolonizing Medicine: in Africa and the Diaspora

CALL FOR PAPERS

Decolonizing Medicine in Africa and its Diaspora

A Hybrid Online/In Person International Conference

(History and Related Disciplines)

September 21 to 24, 2023.

We invite all scholars from any career stage, from around the world, interested in speaking to these questions to participate in this conference. We are particularly interested in scholarship that explores interdisciplinary/ methodological approaches that overcome the dominance of Eurocentrism in modern medicine, and can thereby recover the roles that Africans played in medical sciences, practice, technology, education, policy, and public health.

Please send a 200-word abstract of your proposed paper with a brief biography to jonathan.roberts@msvu.ca and ooduntan@towson.edu by June 15th 2023.

Presentation slots are 15 minutes long, followed by discussion.

Organizers: Oluwatoyin Oduntan (Associate Professor, Towson University),
Jonathan Roberts (Associate Professor, Mount Saint Vincent University).
