COAT OF ARMS

The University Coat of Arms was granted by the Royal Heraldic College in London in 1966. It is based on the coat of arms of the family of Elizabeth Seton, foundress of the Congregation of the Sisters of Charity. The three crescents are from the coat of arms of the Seton family. In the Seton arms, these crescents are tinctured red on a gold field. Blue and gold are the colours of the French arms and betoken affinity with Saint Vincent de Paul.

The tressure, which encloses the three crescents, is also found on the coat of arms granted to Nova Scotia in 1625.

The book represents knowledge; the maple leaves on either side, Canada. The dove, a symbol of the Holy Spirit, emphasizes that knowledge is a means to wisdom, the highest gift of God. Veritas ad Deum ducit, the University motto, translates as “Truth leads to God.”

THE MACE

The mace is a symbol of authority for the University Chancellor, and Mount Saint Vincent University's mace is unique. It is believed that the Mount is the only university whose mace was made by a member of the institution's own faculty. Carved by the late Barry Wheaton, Professor Emeritus of Religious Studies, and presented in 1978, the solid oak mace expresses the University motto with symbols and human figures.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear graduates,

You did it! Congratulations! I hope you are proud of all the hard work, resilience, and growth that brought you to this moment.

Graduates like you give me hope for the future. Your curiosity and determination combined with the skills you learned here have equipped you to make a real difference. Trust your abilities, be courageous, and stay curious.

Wherever life takes you next, lead with kindness. Always make room and listen to diverse voices and help remove barriers standing in the way of others. Be a leader through your actions, not just your words.

The sense of community you found at MSVU does not end at graduation. Stay in touch with peers and those who supported you along your journey and stay connected to the university through the Mount Saint Vincent Alumni Association. Lean on this global network of nearly 40,000 alumni for mentorship and support. And before long, you'll have the chance to be a mentor to those who follow you.

The entire University celebrates with you today and thanks you for the part you played in making our community what it is. We wish you every success in the future.

Keep in touch!

Joël Dickinson, PhD

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Jane Bertrand, ECE Diploma, MEd, Hon D.Litt

Jane Bertrand has contributed to improved outcomes for countless children and families through her transformative impact on early childhood education practice, policy, and research in Canada and internationally.

Jane is the Program Director at the Margaret and Wallace McCain Family Foundation, where she advances initiatives focused on early childhood development, learning, and care. She was an Adjunct Professor at OISE, University of Toronto, and participated in OISE's Early Learning PhD program; an Honorary Fellow with the Mitchell Institute, Melbourne, Australia; and an advisor to Our Place, Victoria, Australia.

Throughout her career, Jane has played a pivotal role in some of Canada's most influential early childhood research initiatives. She worked in collaboration with Dr. Fraser Mustard and the Honourable Margaret Norrie McCain and was the research coordinator for the landmark Early Years Study (1999), Early Years Study 2 (2007) and Early Years Study 3 (2011). In 2013, Jane received an honorary doctorate from the University of New Brunswick in recognition of her contributions to the field.

An influential educator and mentor, Jane was a professor at the School of Early Childhood at George Brown Polytechnic until June 2011. She has collaborated with the Ontario government on curriculum and policy initiatives related to early childhood education. Jane also shared her expertise as a member of the Advisory Committee for the Encyclopedia on Early Childhood Development and Australia's Goodstart Thought Leaders Advisory Group, and contributed to the Toronto First Duty Research team. In keeping with her deep commitment to making research accessible, she is a contributing author to The Science of Early Child Development, a knowledge translation and mobilization initiative, and author of the textbook Becoming and Being an Early Childhood Professional 2nd edition (Cengage, 2026).

VALEDICTORIAN

Ethan Kelloway, BAH

Ethan Kelloway is graduating with a Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Psychology, with a minor in Family Science. Throughout his undergraduate studies, Ethan has distinguished himself through academic excellence, research achievement, leadership, and a deep commitment to supporting others.

A highly engaged member of the MSVU community, Ethan has contributed in numerous roles across campus. He served as a Resident Assistant and Residence Life Liaison, helping students thrive in residence, while also supporting accessibility initiatives as an Accessibility Services Support Student. His commitment to student well-being extended to his leadership with Jack.org, where he played a key role in promoting mental health awareness, reducing stigma, and encouraging meaningful dialogue among students. His leadership has helped foster a more inclusive and supportive campus environment for those navigating mental health challenges.

Ethan's passion for child and youth well-being is reflected in both his research and service. He worked as a research assistant in Family Science and Developmental Psychology, contributed to knowledge mobilization initiatives in Child and Youth Study, and has presented research at academic conferences. Beyond MSVU, he volunteered with the YMCA and supported community organizations focused on youth development and well-being.

Admired by faculty, staff, and peers alike for his professionalism, compassion, warmth, and intellectual curiosity, Ethan embodies the values of MSVU. He is continuing his studies at MSVU, pursuing a Master of Arts in Child and Youth Study degree.

VALEDICTORIAN

Sarah Monette, MEd

Sarah Monette is graduating with a Master of Education in Curriculum Studies. A dedicated educator and lifelong learner, Sarah has distinguished herself through her commitment to student success, inclusive education, and meaningful community engagement.

Throughout her studies and professional work, Sarah has consistently sought opportunities to support and empower young people. As a teacher and coach, she has fostered welcoming learning environments where students feel valued, respected, and encouraged to participate. Her involvement in extracurricular and community-building activities, including coaching a junior high girls' basketball team, reflects her dedication to mentorship and student well-being beyond the classroom.

Sarah is passionate about creating engaging learning experiences and supporting student growth through arts, literacy, and creative learning opportunities. She is also a skilled communicator, regularly delivering lessons, presentations, and instructional talks tailored to diverse audiences, and sharing her knowledge and expertise with both students and educational colleagues.

Through her commitment to lifelong learning, inclusion, community, and personal growth, Sarah exemplifies the values of MSVU and is an outstanding representative of her graduating class.

EARLY CAREER RESEARCH AWARD

Catherine Baillie Abidi, PhD, Department of Child and Youth Study

Dr. Catherine Baillie Abidi is an impact-focused researcher whose work focuses on violence prevention, the impact of moral injury, and recognizing children and youth as peacebuilders, drawing on international humanitarian law, critical child and youth studies, and peacebuilding. Her work aims to advance social policy and enhance children's rights frameworks. She works closely with communities, including with young people in Cameroon and local refugee and immigrant children and youth, who are often engaged as co-researchers in her work.

In just a few years, Dr. Baillie Abidi has built a record of achievement many aspire to over an entire career. She has published numerous journal articles, co-authored a book, generated major reports and policy documents, delivered talks and panel discussions, organized conferences, and created a national community of practice for scholars focused on children affected by armed violence. Committed to mentoring the next generation, she has supervised 29 MSVU students, as well as students in Cameroon and at two partner universities. Through her research, mentorship, and community engagement, she is advancing knowledge and policy while inspiring future socially conscious leaders.

PRESIDENT'S AWARD FOR RESEARCH EXCELLENCE

Danielle Cox, PhD, Department of Mathematics and Statistics

Dr. Danielle Cox is an innovative mathematics researcher whose work focuses on graph theory including graph polynomials and graph searching, with additional interest in combinatorial number theory, mathematics and art, and math education. Just 10 years into her research career, she has introduced new graph searching models, published more than 20 peer-reviewed articles in high-ranking journals, secured over $250,000 in research grants, and earned a reputation as an expert through invited talks, collaborations, and media engagements. She has also served as a reviewer for the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council (NSERC), academic journals, and student theses.

Committed to student success, Dr. Cox mentors multiple students through hands-on research and experiences. Many of her mentees have pursued advanced studies and careers in areas such as mathematics, epidemiology, and data science.

Dr. Cox is dedicated to ensuring mathematics is fun and accessible for all. She founded and leads MSVU's Science Circles, providing free hands-on science workshops for youth. She supports equity, diversity, inclusion, and accessibility (EDIA) in mathematical research as a member of the Atlantic Association for Research in Mathematical Sciences (AARMS) EDIA Committee. She is also the co-chair of the collaborative research group Games & Graph Searching in Atlantic Canada which has 27 national and international members.

MESSAGE FROM YOUR ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT

Dear Graduating Students:

On behalf of the Mount Saint Vincent Alumni Association, it is my great joy to welcome you to your new community of fellow alumni.

At the Mount, we have long believed that excellence and opportunity should be accessible to everyone. Many of you balanced work shifts with lectures, cared for family between papers, studied in a country new to you, or returned to study after time away. If your path here was not straight, you are exactly the kind of graduate the Mount champions. You belong here and today proves it.

You have shown grit, curiosity, and care for others, plus the rare ability to survive group projects, conquer online portals, and outsmart Halifax weather. (Frankly, that last one should go on your résumé.) These are precisely the strengths the world needs.

Graduation is not goodbye; it is how your relationship with the Mount changes and grows. Please stay connected to us by keeping your contact details up to date, following our alumni channels, attending regional gatherings, saying yes to mentorship (as a mentor or a mentee), tapping into career support, and sharing your milestones so we can celebrate with you. Your voice and energy strengthen this community for the students who come next.

As you cross the stage, know that you carry the spirit of the Mount forward: opening doors, lifting others, and insisting that talent be met with opportunity. We cannot wait to see what you do next. Warm congratulations and welcome to the MSVU alumni family!

With pride,

Heather Strickey, BA (Hons) '95
President, Mount Saint Vincent Alumni Association (MSVAA)
